FOR A FULL FUSION

Populist National Committee Has Issued a Notable Address.

IT URGES PATRIOTIC ACTION

Watson's Opposition To Electoral Coalition Not Regarded.

REED SIGNS THE ADDRESS, ALSO

He Is Looked Upon as the Populist
Nominee's Personal Representative—
Will Make No Fight
on Fusion.

Chicago, October 13.—An important meeting of the national executive committee of the people's party was held today at the Sherman house. The following members were present: Senator Marion Butler, chairman; J. R. Sovereign, Arkansas; H.
W. Reed, Georgia; George F. Washburne,
Massachusetts; John W. Bridenthal, Kansas; M. C. Rankin, Indiana; J. A. Edgerton, Nebraska; C. F. Taylor, Pennsylvania.
The only absentee was John S. Dore, of California.

The committee was in almost continuous secret session from morning until midnight. The preparation of an address to the voters of the party engaged most of the time. Fusion difficulties and the attitude of certain members toward Watson
formed a subject for protracted and lively debate.

Mr. Reed came as the personal representative of Mr. Watson, having spent two days with him just before leaving Atlanta.
His signature to the address which explains and justifies joint Watson and Senator Jones' action and appeals to populists to support them at the polls is accepted as proof that peace has been restored over this discussion in the committee.

Senator Butler said no action had been taken by the committee relative to Mr.
Watson and none would be. Another meeting will be held tomorrow.

The Committee's Address.

Following is the address prepared by the committee:

TO THE PEOPLE'S PARTY VOT-ERS OF THE UNITED STATES—Your
national committee indulged the hope that the patriotic action of the people's party in national convention, in subordinating the interests of the party to the success of the vital issues involved in the present democratic party, and that all the friends of silver could present a solid front against the millions of greed by supporting one ticket,
the truly co-operative ticket—Bryan and Watson. But this hope being disappointed, there were two courses
left, one of which must be adopted.

First, to run a straight Bryan and Watson electoral ticket in every state, which, on account of the failure of the democratic party to support this ticket, would have effected the same result in this campaign that would have followed the nomination of a straight populist ticket at St. Louis, namely, the election of McKinley and the triumph of the gold standard.

The other course left open to your committee was that was consistent with the action of the convention in nominating Mr. Bryan was to do everything in its power to unite the voters of the country against McKinley and to overcome the obstacles and embarrassments which, if the democratic party had put the cause first and the party second,
we would not have encountered.

Arranging for a Division.

This could be accomplished only by arranging for a division of the electoral vote in every state possible, securing so many electors for Bryan and Watson, and conceding so many to Bryan and Sewall. At the opening of the campaign this, under the circumstances,
seemed the wisest course for your committee, and it is clear today that
that it was the only safe and wise course if our votes were to be cast and made effective for the relief of an oppressed and outraged people.

Following this line of policy, your committee has arranged electoral tickets in three-fourths of the states, and will do all in its power to make the same arrangements in all of the states. By perfecting this arrangement, and every sincere opponent of the gold standard giving loyal support to these point electoral tickets, the people's party will not only secure in the electoral college for Bryan and Watson several times as many votes as we could have possibly secured by making a straight ticket, but we will secure the defeat of McKinley and the gold standard, of every citizen who believes in the principles of true democracy.

By this arrangement we can unite a large majority of the voters on our joint electoral tickets, therefore the only hope of the money power and trusts is to divide and conquer. The republican managers and their democratic allies realize this and are putting forth every effort to accomplish this end.

Call for United Action.

Some of the democrats of the revenue stamp, who are not yet weaned from the flesh pots of Egypt, but are sticklers of regularity and are nominally suf-porters of Mr. Bryan while secretly anti-fusion, are every day trying to bring about a division of the electoral vote, and in this they advise democrats to scratch
the people's party electors, and already a few so-called populist leaders are advising the rank and file of our party
to strike back for refusing to support the democratic electors of the joint electoral tickets. This is a trap set by the goldbugs, who are rejoicing that a few honest men have fallen into it. These people today are the only ones that buy up the hopes of the republican managers, and the democrats and the populists who are thus enlured are doing just what the gold men desire.
Therefore, we appeal to every populist,
who may have been misled by such mistakes or false pleas of pretended loyalty to the people's party into refusing to support such joint electoral tickets, to stop and consider the result of such conduct and refuse to be influenced by either misguided or corrupt men.

The revolution of the American people against these boodles men during the last ten days has so united them
that victory is now assured.

W. Bridenthal, Chairman.
M. C. Rankin, Chairman.
J. R. Sovereign, Secretary.
H. W. Reed, Secretary.
George F. Washburne, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN LIES ARE REFUTED

Bryan's Law Partner Corrects Some Hanna Campaign "Facts."

Lincoln, Neb., October 13.—In a statement given out yesterday A. R. Talbot, Republican candidate for the state senate,
and law partner of W. B. Bryan, says:

I see that it is stated in the press reports that I have "bolted" Mr. Bryan, my law partner, now democratic candidate for re-election. I have always been and am now, a republican, but no man has a greater admiration for Mr. Bryan than I have. His honesty, integrity and patriotism cannot be questioned. I have not "bolted" Mr. Bryan, and any statement to that effect is untrue.

I wish also to add that the statement
in the press of the country to the effect that Mr. Bryan misstated his financial relations to the defunct German National bank of this city in his New London, Conn., speech, is without foundation. Mr. Bryan's statement was that at the time of the failure of that bank was not indebted to it in any amount whatever, and the bank held no note bearing his signature. The indebtedness referred to in the matter was my own personal obligation.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 13.—(Special.)
Chairman Martin, of the democratic state
committee, at noon today filed with the
state election board an electoral ticket
identical with that previously filed by the populists.

There are five populists and ten democrats on this ticket. The same electoral ticket will accordingly appear on the ballots under the "plowshare" and under the
"rooster."

Fusion on the state tickets has not yet
been completed. Chairman Martin emerged
from the board meeting soon after 12
o'clock. "Has there been fusion?" he
was asked.

"Hardly the proper word," he said. "We have acted independently and have the
same names on our electoral ticket."
"Have you withdrawn your ultimatum requiring the populists to withdraw their
state ticket as the only basis of fusion?"
"Nothing more has been done on that
line," was the reply.

The action today completes fusion, so far
as the electoral ticket is concerned.
An effort is being made to induce the
populist state candidates to withdraw.

WARSHIP BANCROFT WILL PASS

Without Turkish Permission.

TERRELL WILL BE ON BOARD

If American Vessel Is Fired On a Bombardment Will Follow.

New York, October 13.—A special from Washington says the United States practice
ship Bancroft, whose departure for European waters has been the subject of profound mystery, is to play an important part
in the effort of the powers to bring about
a settlement of the Turkish question.

The little vessel is to force the Dardanelles with Minister Terrell standing on
her deck, and if any obstacles are placed in the way by the Turkish forces, the Mediterranean fleet under Admiral Sel-
fridge, now 150 miles away, will come to her assistance. The British fleet will no doubt
also be near at hand to back up the American commander if occasion arises.

From the highest authority it is learned that the powers have agreed to the programme, and not only will offer no objection or resistance to the entrance of the Bancroft to the Golden Horn, but will allow her to pass.

The decision to send the Bancroft to Constantinople was reached some weeks ago
just before her departure from Annapolis
as a training ship, but received its seal
today after the cabinet meeting, where
orders were sent to her commander to report at once to Minister Terrell on arriving at Smyrna, and there follow his instructions. Admiral Selfridge has been informed by cable that he may expect the Bancroft in the next few days and to cable
Mr. Terrell at the American legation at Constantinople at once when she arrives.

Captain Belknap, of the Bancroft, on receiving Mr. Terrell on board is to sail for Constantinople and pass the Dardanelles,
no matter what may happen. Minister Terrell is to take up his residence on the
vessel, which will become the official
guardship of the United States.

If Minister Terrell is not already at Smyr-
na, he will be by the time the Bancroft arrives there. He will board the Bancroft,
which will become the dispatch boat of our
legation by this simple action. The ship
will proceed to Smyrna, which is about half
way between Smyrna and the Dardanelles.
From this point he will send an official
dispatch to the foreign office in Constantinople that he is on board, and the capital on
the American gunboat Bancroft.

No formal request is to be made for the privilege of entering the sea of Marmora
and no opportunity will be given the port
to exercise the power of denial. The result of a firm refusal to be refused by the
officials at Constantinople is inaccurate; no authority has been sought recently
and none will be. The statement from Minister Terrell will be positive and will leave
no grounds for discussion of the subject.

This course, the importance of which is
apparent to those familiar with the situation, has been determined upon after a judicial inquiry into the circumstances by
the Washington authorities. The advice
from Minister Terrell have lately been of such a character that there has appeared
no better plan to pursue than the one
which would place the Bancroft, the ar-
mored representative of this government,
in the Golden Horn.

The reliance on Commander Belknap's
discretion is not limited. He is understood
to have orders to convey Minister Terrell
to Constantinople, despite the menacing
fortifications on each side of the strait, to
the secret sea of the Turks.

Naval officers and diplomats in Washington do not look for any active hostility.
They expect that the Turkish displeasure,
if evidenced at all, will find expression in
the conventional firing of a Dardanelles
gun across the bows of the Bancroft. This will answer the purpose of advising the Bancroft's commander that he is encroaching upon forbidden waters and that personnel is at his risk and on the responsibility of his government.

This circumstance is important in the extreme. It has a significance beyond the simple indorsement of the foreigners. Many of the ships of the European navies are assembled at Smyrna. They have no right
sister is at his risk and on the responsibility of his government. They will be, without convention call, and an attack upon the Bancroft would surely lead to action.

"rooster."

Fusion on the state tickets has not yet
been completed. Chairman Martin emerged
from the board meeting soon after 12
o'clock. "Has there been fusion?" he
was asked.

"Hardly the proper word," he said. "We
same names on our electoral ticket."
"Have you withdrawn your ultimatum requiring the populists to withdraw their
state ticket as the only basis of fusion?"
"Nothing more has been done on that
line," was the reply.

The action today completes fusion, so far
as the electoral ticket is concerned.
An effort is being made to induce the
populist state candidates to withdraw.

Without Turkish Permission.

TERRELL WILL BE ON BOARD

If American Vessel Is Fired On a Bom-
bardment Will Follow.

New York, October 13.—A special from Washington says the United States practice
ship Bancroft, whose departure for European waters has been the subject of pro-
found mystery, is to play an important part
in the effort of the powers to bring about
a settlement of the Turkish question.

The little vessel is to force the Dardanelles with Minister Terrell standing on
her deck, and if any obstacles are placed
in the way by the Turkish forces, the Mediterranean fleet under Admiral Sel-
fridge, now 150 miles away, will come to
her assistance. The British fleet will no doubt
also be near at hand to back up the
American commander if occasion arises.

From the highest authority it is learn-
ed that the powers have agreed to the programme, and not only will offer no objection or resistance to the entrance of the Bancroft to the Golden Horn, but will allow her to pass.

The decision to send the Bancroft to Con-
stantinople was reached some weeks ago
just before her departure from Annapolis
as a training ship, but received its seal
today after the cabinet meeting, where
orders were sent to her commander to report at once to Minister Terrell on arriving at Smyrna, and there follow his instructions. Admiral Selfridge has been informed by cable that he may expect the Bancroft in the next few days and to cable
Mr. Terrell at the American legation at Constantinople at once when she arrives.

Captain Belknap, of the Bancroft, on receiving Mr. Terrell on board is to sail for Constantinople and pass the Dardanelles,
no matter what may happen. Minister Terrell is to take up his residence on the
vessel, which will become the official
guardship of the United States.

If Minister Terrell is not already at Smyr-
na, he will be by the time the Bancroft arrives there. He will board the Bancroft,
which will become the dispatch boat of our
legation by this simple action. The ship
will proceed to Smyrna, which is about half
way between Smyrna and the Dardanelles.
From this point he will send an official
dispatch to the foreign office in Constantinople that he is on board, and the capital on
the American gunboat Bancroft.

No formal request is to be made for the
privilege of entering the sea of Marmora
and no opportunity will be given the port
to exercise the power of denial. The result of a firm refusal to be refused by the
officials at Constantinople is inaccu-
rate; no authority has been sought recently
and none will be. The statement from Minister Terrell will be positive and will leave
no grounds for discussion of the subject.

This course, the importance of which is
apparent to those familiar with the situation, has been determined upon after a
judicial inquiry into the circumstances by
the Washington authorities. The advice
from Minister Terrell have lately been of
such a character that there has appeared
no better plan to pursue than the one
which would place the Bancroft, the ar-
mored representative of this government,
in the Golden Horn.

The reliance on Commander Belknap's
discretion is not limited. He is understood
to have orders to convey Minister Terrell
to Constantinople, despite the menacing
fortifications on each side of the strait, to
the secret sea of the Turks.

Naval officers and diplomats in Washing-
ton do not look for any active hostility.
They expect that the Turkish displeasure,
if evidenced at all, will find expression in
the conventional firing of a Dardanelles
gun across the bows of the Bancroft. This
will answer the purpose of advising the Bancroft's commander that he is encroach-
ing upon forbidden waters and that personnel is at his risk and on the responsibility of his government.

This circumstance is important in the extreme. It has a significance beyond the simple indorsement of the foreigners. Many
of the ships of the European navies are
assembled at Smyrna. They have no right
sister is at his risk and on the responsibility of his government. They will be, with-
out convention call, and an attack upon the Bancroft would surely lead to action.

FUSION IN INDIANA

Democrats and Populists Will Have the Same Electors.

NO STATE ARRANGEMENT MADE

Ultimatum Is Now Regarded as a Dead Letter.

THIS MEANS A GREAT BRYAN VICTORY

Effort Is on Foot to Secure an Understanding Regarding Statehouse Officers.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 13.—(Special.)
Chairman Martin, of the democratic state
committee, at noon today filed with the
state election board an electoral ticket
identical with that previously filed by the
populists.

There are five populists and ten democrats on this ticket. The same electoral
ticket will accordingly appear on the ballots under the "plowshare" and under the
"rooster."

Fusion on the state tickets has not yet
been completed. Chairman Martin emerged
from the board meeting soon after 12
o'clock. "Has there been fusion?" he
was asked.

"Hardly the proper word," he said. "We

SULTAN DEFIED

BY AMERICA

MICHIGAN FOR BRYAN

Henry George Tours the State and Puts It in the Democratic Column.

WORKINGMEN ARE FOR SILVER

Nominee Will Have 30,000 Votes More Than McKinley and They Will Come from All Parties.

Jackson, Mich., October 13.—I have learned enough of Michigan to convince me that if the election were to come off on Monday morning, I would carry the state by a handsome majority, and to further convince me that the tendency in this state is steadily growing and that when he passes through the two peninsulas next week, making the fifty-five speeches he is booked for, even if most of them be mere greetings to the crowds that will gather at the stations, it is likely to result in a favorable result. I have tried to get my information as to how the currents of thought are running from the best and most reliable sources, and I have no need of flattery to introduce to find in the towns of Michigan men whom I can trust and who will tell me frankly what they know.

The conclusion I have reached is that there is no need of going further to form an opinion, and that it is now as sure as anything in the future can be that when the 3d of November comes Michigan will vote for Bryan and McKinley. Michigan has been counted as a republican state. But to analyze the vote on presidential election is to see that for twelve years the republicans have been in opposition to the republican party would have given a different result. In the last presidential election, Michigan, of the electors chosen, seven republicans and five democrats, making, with the two electors at large, a vote in the college of nine republicans and five democrats. Of the aggregate popular vote, that of the republicans was 227,785, that of the democrats 232,256, that of the populists 19,882 and that of the prohibitionists 14,063.

The republicans have a plurality of 20,412, but on the union of the three opposing elements they would have been beaten by 13,540. That union is now assured. The democrats in this state are not pushing themselves to the front, nor even speaking much of themselves as democrats, but to avoid arousing the prejudices of themselves rather as "new democrats." While the official certificate of the fusionists is recorded as that of the "democratic state," it consists of the following: "Democratic People's Union Silver Ticket." And this union, on equal terms, has actually reform elements, and men who have long been accustomed to oppose each other are united now with a strength born of their agreement in the common struggle against plutocracy.

Bryan's Probable Majority.

The old politicians among the democratic party managers seem, on what appears to be no unreasonable assumption, confident of carrying the state by a vote of thirty or thirty-five thousand. The populists are working earnestly, the larger part of the prohibitionists will certainly vote for Bryan, the democrats will come to the polls in as great if not greater force than in 1892, the gold democrats are comparatively few, and from every part of the state reports are coming in of men who never voted for a democrat before, but who are working and will this year vote for Bryan. That estimate is not a large one, and seems to arise from a just estimate of the influence of the corporations and large employers may have upon their men, from an uncertainty as to the vote of the upper peninsula, which they have not been able to adequately reach, and from a fear of the great amount of money at the disposal of their opponents.

But from what I have heard I think the feeling among the workingmen of Michigan is as strong and intense as I have found it in other places, and that the attempts of employers to influence it are producing a precisely opposite result to that intended. As to the upper peninsula, where the owners of the rich mineral deposits have reduced their laborers to a condition similar to that of the miners in coal and iron regions of Pennsylvania, it is hardly feared that there will be any republican gain, but merely that the increase in the price of the products of the mine will be large as in the lower peninsula. But even in the upper peninsula labor is sharing in the general alarm, and the Mine Workers' Union of northern Michigan has been circulating an address to workmen generally similar to that issued by the locked-out men of the Brown Works in Cleveland, demanding the gaining of their demands, and a systematic course of coercion against union men. As to the use of money, after a certain point and in a time like this, it is powerless. Nearly $200,000 of the money which was raised for the purpose of defeating Mayor Plingree in Detroit a few years ago, but it seemed to produce no effect at all. The money which was sent to the masses behind him, was elected by an overpowering majority. And the same word is going around through Michigan as through the rest of the country, "The money, all you can get of it, and then vote according to the dictates of your own conscience."

Scheme To Aid McKinley.

The only way in which bribery can be in any large degree effective in Michigan is by buying men to stay away from the polls. But now the word is going around that this is the plan, and the men who stay away from the polls on election day is likely to encounter a public opinion among his fellows that few would care to face for a bribe. As to the number of republicans who will vote for McKinley, the specific details that have been given me incline me to doubt if the highest estimates are beyond the truth.

In writing from St. Louis to The Journal in June, of the republican convention, I stated my impression that I was witnessing there the last great convention of the republican party. What gave me this impression, in the face of that perfectly managed machine, responsive to the will of its controller as a locomotive engine is to its driver, was that it seemed that everything of real belief and earnest purpose had gone out of the party, and that all that remained was habit, the sordid desire for the gaining of office, and the desire for power, so well represented by McKinley's "Protection and Prosperity," and Hanna's "ability to raise and use immense funds."

That the soul of the republican party, as it is of men, has gone out of the republican party, and that what causes its dead body yet to lumber the earth, in this part of the country, is at least only the power of the banks and the power of the monopolies and trusts, seems particularly clear in Jackson, Mich., where, on the spot, then covered with spreading oaks, where on June 2, 1854, the republican party was organized and its name adopted by a union of free traders, abolitionists, soil whigs and abolitionists, such a union as has now taken place around Bryan and the Chicago platform, I sat there in the company of gray-haired men, one of whom was E. W. Barber, assistant postmaster general under Lincoln, and who is now bears his years, verging fast on the threescore and ten, with the mental activity usually attributed to youth.

They told me, for it was yesterday, of perhaps than the events of yesterday, of the spirit and the life of the then new republican party of Michigan that carried the state in its first election. They told me of its readiness to subordinate everything to one great end; of its schoolhouse meetings; its neighborhood conferences and its discussions on streets and highways, and the strong men, unheeded of before in politics, that under that stimulus became speakers and leaders. The new democratic party, they said, formed in virtually the same way, was showing the same qualities and making the same kind of progress. These books are complete and the movement that is now going on in Michigan, they said, had been there since 1880. And from all I have heard from many sources, both complete and the feeling, more than that from any estimates of the politicians, that it seems to me that Bryan will carry Michigan.

What gave me this impression, in the face of that perfectly managed machine, responsive to the will of its controller as a locomotive engine is to its driver, was that it seemed that everything of real belief and earnest purpose had gone out of the party, and that all that remained was habit, the sordid desire for the gaining of office, and the desire for power, so well represented by McKinley's "Protection and Prosperity," and Hanna's "ability to raise and use immense funds."

UNDERWOOD SURE OF ELECTION.

Democrats Claim Their Nominee Will Beat All Opposition.

Birmingham, Ala., October 13.—(Special.)—Hon. O. W. Underwood, democratic candidate for congress, will be elected in this, the ninth district, by a good majority over Dr. Archibald, or Dr. G. B. Crowe. In the headquarters of the latter gentleman, at the Opera House hotel, the following statement was made: "The democrats being divided, the republicans being uncertain as to whom they will support, Dr. Crowe, the popular candidate, will be elected by a plurality."

A prominent "sound money" democrat states that he will support very near all the republicans, and will, therefore, be able to beat the populists.

"We will get the support of very near all the republicans, and will, therefore, be able to beat the populists."

"The populists will not get the solid republican vote. We will get the majority of the colored voters and a number of white voters. We will get two to one with Dr. Lawson, and two and a half to one with Dr. Crowe."

The counties comprising the district have been pretty well canvassed by the democratic party, and Hon. O. W. Underwood is predicted a solid vote on all sides. Captain Kolb's advice is being followed notwithstanding the ravings of envious leaders in the party. Kolb is making some telling speech in the district.

Captain Joseph Johnston and all the prominent speakers in the Johnston-Goodwyn campaign are now on the stump in the interest of the democratic party against the "sound money" republicans. Hon. Mr. Underwood will beat both Dr. Crowe and Dr. Lawson.

SHIP ALMOST LAY ON HER SIDES

Hamtown from Norfolk to New York.

Norfolk, Va., October 13.—The Old Dominion Line steamship Hamtown, which left here for New York at 6:30 Saturday night, met the hurricane of that night and Sunday and had to put back to the wharf when off Atlantic City, owing to a shortage of coal. She arrived here about 2 o'clock this morning. Her officers report a terrific gale, saying that at times the vessel almost lay on her sides, so rough was the sea.

For many hours she was only able to make four knots per hour and when off Atlantic City, the supply of coal grew so low that the captain determined to run before the wind back to this port. Some of her perishable cargo suffered, but all in all the ship was making a successful voyage. She carried a good many passengers, all of whom were extremely sick. It was noticeable that many of these left for New York this morning and did not wait for the Hamtown to put back to the wharf. The vessel was in no way hurt.

STRIKERS PAID OFF

Contractors Tell Stone Cutters That They Are Discharged.

NO PROSPECT OF A LET UP

The Men Are Firm in Their Demands for Union Wages.

SAY THEY CAN CONTINUE STRIKE FOR WEEKS

Correspondence Between the Disagreeing Parties Does Not Mend the Breach.

The stonecutters' strike is still on, with little prospect of a let up.

Contractors Ramsey & Brisen wrote a letter to the strikers, which was delivered yesterday morning, warning them that if they did not report at 1 o'clock for duty at the Austell building, they would be discharged. The strikers held a meeting at 9 o'clock yesterday morning to consider this letter. They persisted in refusing to return to work until their demand for $2.5 a day had been complied with.

At 1 o'clock the strikers called at the office of Ramsey & Brisen for their pay. They were paid in full, and immediately left the office of the contractors and assembled at Federation hall, No. 625 Peachtree street, to discuss the situation and what course of action would be pursued in the future. All were unanimous in the determination to stand firm in their demands.

The letter from Ramsey & Brisen is as follows:

Atlanta, Ga., 235 Marietta Street, October 12, 1936.—To the Stonecutters who Have Been Working for Us, Gentlemen: This is to notify you that every man who has not reported for work at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and who has not reported for work at 1 o'clock today, will be considered as having been discharged. It is the policy of Ramsey & Brisen to employ only men who are on the job at 1 o'clock every day. Yours truly,

RAMSEY-BRISSEN STONE CO.

Per G. G. Ramsey, Secretary and Treasurer.

Stonecutters Reply.

The reply of the strikers is as follows: Atlanta, Ga., Branch Granite Cutters' National Union, Atlanta, Ga., October 12, 1936.—To the Ramsey-Brisen Stone Co., Gentlemen: Your letter of the 12th instant was handed by Mr. G. G. Ramsey to our acting secretary, Mr. J. H. Briden, this morning. In your letter you state that all men not back to work today by 1 o'clock can consider themselves discharged, and to remove their tools from your yard by 1 o'clock today. In reply, we will state that we wish to kindly, but firmly, inform you that under no circumstances will we return to work until the state bill of prices of the Granite Cutters' National Union is signed by your firm. We have a strike committee, consisting of P. S. Smith, Fred Fox, John Lafayette, L. Singleton and L. A. Holley, and they are the only ones authorized by this body to act for us. If you do not sign the bill, you will be considered as an unfair shop, and the men will be considered as oppositions by the laws of our union. The men will remove their tools by 1 o'clock and call for their money at 1:30 o'clock today.

J. H. Hill, acting president; J. W. Bridwell, acting secretary; D. F. Hill, A. Straus, C. H. Spangler, V. E. Wade, F. F. Plantenberg, T. L. McGhee, M. L. Singleton, Alex. Reeves, Jim Ivy, John H. Estes, T. E. Smith, L. A. Holley, J. B. Lafayette, Fred Fox, W. F. McEcken.

Other Unions in Sympathy.

An afternoon meeting of the strikers was held at Federation hall at 3 o'clock. There was a full attendance. President Michael Riley, of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, offered the services of a committee from the federation to take any steps which they deemed expedient to relieve the situation.

Patrick H. Moore, who was formerly a leading member of the "alliance" union, appeared before the strikers and made a speech, in which he assured them that the local trades union were in sympathy with the strikers, and would support them in it.

The strikers are a peaceable lot, and do not contemplate any violence, but are evidently determined in their purpose. They declare they can continue the strike for several weeks without embarrassment.

$7 a Week Strike Pay.

Every striker will receive $7 a week strike pay from the National Union of Stone Cutters. This, together with what money they have laid by as their savings, they pay with cash to take any steps which they deem expedient to relieve the situation.

At yesterday's meeting of the strikers a committee was appointed, consisting of Frank Plantenberg, Fred Fox and J. W. Bridwell, who were instructed to write to the stonecutters' unions in neighboring cities, asking them to note the strikers' demands that the strike was on, so that no stonecutters from other cities would come to this city for work. They hope by this means to tie up the Austell building until the contractors who are to furnish the stone for its erection shall accede to the union's demands.

The work of the bricklayers on the Austell building continues, and the strikers declare they do not expect to ask the bricklayers to join them in the strike unless Ramsey & Brisen put the strike on hold. In which case they expect to get every union laborer on the building to come out on strike.

Mayor King is on a Visit to the Famous Okefinokee Swamp.

Alderman Joseph Hirsch is acting mayor of Atlanta during the absence of Mayor King, who is in south Georgia on personal and legal business. He is interested in the Okefinokee swamp property, and went down to take a look at it, in company with members of the company which is developing the property. Mayor King is expected home today or tomorrow. Mr. Hirsch has often occupied the mayor's chair, and the duties of the position are familiar to him.

THE CURSE

Of mankind—contagious blood poison—claimed as its victim Mr. Frank B. Martin, 926 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., and the usual physician's treatment did him not the slightest good. His condition reached that deplorable stage which only this terrible disease can produce.

THE CURE

After all else failed, was at last found in S. S. S.—the greatest of all blood remedies. Eighteen bottles removed the disease permanently, and left his skin without a blemish.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and is the only known cure for this most terrible disease. Books free; address, Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.

How a Saurian Was Slain in Atlanta

An alligator hunt in the midst of a thickly settled suburban community was witnessed near Atlanta Monday morning. A monster saurian was bagged after the most approved method of the professional crocodile slayer.

Dr. John W. Graham is an ardent disciple of Nimrod, who wears a slouch hat and has a halo of encircling beard about his chin. His specializations among the tribe of poissams which frequent the wooded dells about Decatur has furnished "poison fat" in abundance for the tables of that village ever since the frost fell on the fodder.

He has a keen gray eye and unerring aim with a rifle. As straight as a crow flies he shoots, and when it became known that near West End an alligator of the tropical species had been seen to show its nose above the water the doctor was consulted. It was said that the 'gator had feasted upon all the fish in Karwin's pond, and upon one occasion had chased a cow about the pasture at a dead sprint.

Dr. Graham agreed to undertake the hunt. He armed himself with his favorite rifle, filled his belt with cartridges, nerved himself to the highest pitch of courage and marched forth with Napoleon determination to do slaughter. Silently he secreted himself in the bulrushes that fringed the pond. Earnestly he watched for a glimpse of the scaly-coated crocodile—a long time he squatted in the mire and mud. Suddenly the nose of the 'gator was pushed above the surface of the pond. The doctor drew sharp aim upon the green eye of the saurian. A quick bang from the bulrushes followed and the water seethed like a whirlpool.

Great was the joy of the inhabitants when it became known that the mysterious animal which had terrified the neighborhood had been killed. Dr. Graham received the ovation which came to St. George when he slew the dragon. They jollied him even as Theseus was jollied when he severed the head of the minotaur and liberated his brother Athenians.

The 'gator was dragged forth and exhibited. It was of enormous size, and its huge proportions caused all to wonder. It was placed aboard a trolley car headed for Atlanta, and caused a sensation of no small size. The reptile was pushed in between two seats. Gradually the car filled up and was speeding down Whitehall at a swift pace.

All at once there was a scream that almost loosened the belted blocks below. An old negro woman had suddenly sighted the 'gator stretched out near her feet. Her obese body loomed up above the rest of the passengers and began to sway in camp-meeting style.

"De name er Gort, what am dat? Stop dis here car. If dat ain't old Satan den it's one er his angels. Whar dat nicker I gib? Ain't gwine letch me settin' long side er no snick outacious critter as dat. Stop de car quick!"

It required the combined efforts of the conductor and several passengers to prevent the old lady from leaping off the car before it stopped.

During the trip to town several other negroes were badly frightened at the unusual sight. Once a muscular contractor caused the halt of the 'gator to move. The negro boy who was engaged to carry it shot up like a skyrocket and disappeared in the distance at a furious gait. When the 'gator was brought into the office of the doctor in the Equitable building it was viewed by a large crowd. In the evening he looked it on a Decatur car with the intention of securing the skin for a pair of winter boots.

It is thought that the alligator is one which was placed in Faith's pond, some distance from where it was killed, twelve years ago.

THE LIFE AT STAKE

Atlanta, where he has worked for Mr. Lowe.

Dr. Shaw on the Stand.

After the dinner recess, Dr. Charles Shaw was sworn and introduced on behalf of the state. Dr. Shaw testified that he was one of the resident physicians of the Grady hospital and was present when the wound in the head of Baker Bass was examined. He testified that the bullet, from his examination, went into the head in a straight line from the point from which the pistol was fired.

"I examined the wound," said Dr. Shaw, "and saw no powder marks on the flesh. The wound was not particularly ragged, but was round. I could see that the bullet had penetrated the brain."

"I did not especially examine his clothes, but I noticed the collar was torn back and the back of his coat had been badly torn in two. I noticed there were finger marks on the collar. I examined to see if there were any powder burns to see if he had suicided or was murdered. I made this examination briefly."

Turner Heard the Shot.

Charles Turner, who lives at No. 1 Curran street, testified that he heard the pistol shot.

"I was on my way to Kirkwood, and was going down Ellis street. A few minutes after the shot was heard, I saw a man running down Ellis street on the far side from me. He looked like a negro."

"Is Johnson the man you saw running down the street?" asked Solicitor Hill.

"I couldn't say. I didn't recognize the man," replied Mr. Turner.

Turner stated on the cross-examination that he had not spoken of the matter until a few weeks ago. Turner is a carpenter and said he was on the way to his work when he saw the man running down Ellis street.

Heard Johnson's Story.

Jim Jenkins, a negro, was next introduced by the state.

Jenkins did not know Mr. Bass, but said he knew Johnson.

"Johnson told me that he had 'done' a man on Ivy street."

Attorney Robinson brought out the fact that Jenkins had been in the penitentiary four years and that he had been engaged to get up evidence in a number of blind tiger cases.

Dead Man's Clothes in Court.

A large bundle was opened and the clothes worn by Baker Bass on the morning of the murder were unwrapped and tendered as evidence.

The bundle contained the pants, coat and underwear of the dead man. The clothes were dingy and soiled and showed signs of frequent handling. The bundle was opened in the presence of the jury, and each article was examined. With this the state rested.

The Defense Opens.

It was 3:20 o'clock when the defense opened its case.

Mr. J. P. Martin testified that he was off his way home from The Constitution office, where he had worked the previous night.

The Green Boys Had Terrorized the Whole Country. Objection To Deeding the Lot to the State Without Certain Agreements.

THEY HAD PLANNED TO ROB THE TOWN

Thomas Met Them and Brought Them to Bay—Killed Bill Doolin Some Weeks Ago.

The fatal rifle of Heck Thomas has done bloody work again. This time two of the boldest desperadoes of Indian Territory were killed. Others were captured. It was a deed of reckless daring which eclipses his former record in the capture of Bill Doolin. He is Thomas once lived in Atlanta. He is the brother of Colonel L. P. Thomas, former councilman. Some years ago he decided to locate in the west, and has lived in that section since then.

No man in that country has a wider reputation for courage and reckless deeds than Heck Thomas. Scarcely a month ago, when the region was terrified with the doings of Bill Doolin, he organized a posse and succeeded in killing the noted outlaw. Now comes the news of another thrilling fight. The following from Arkansas tells the story of the desperate encounter:

Fort Smith, Ark., October 13.—In a fight between the posse led by Marshal Heck Thomas and the Green gang of outlaws at Oolagh, I. T., last night, two of the outlaws were killed and the others captured. The dead men are Jim Green and his brother, and they were members of one of the worst gangs of desperadoes in the Indian Territory. The Green boys have been on the road for three months, and their coolness and skill in robberies gave rise to the belief that they were in many hold-ups charged to the Cook gang.

Last night Green and his gang rode into Oolagh, forty miles west of Fort Smith, for the purpose of robbing the town, but encountered Heck Thomas and party, and a fight followed, which proved most disastrous to them.

Thomas is the man who ran Bill Doolin to earth.

ANNIE STABBED HER HUSBAND.

He Refused To Testify Against Her, However, in Court.

Annie Aiken, a negro woman, was yesterday bound over to the city criminal court by Justice Bloodworth on the charge of stabbing. It seems that about two weeks ago Annie kicked a dog which was in her house and her husband, Westley Aiken, told her to stop. She replied that the dog belonged to her and she would kick it whenever she liked. This was the beginning of the disturbance, which ended by Annie stabbing her husband with a penknife, making several ugly wounds.

A warrant was sworn out for her by her sister-in-law and Jesse Jones. She was arrested yesterday. At the trial her husband, who was the principal witness in the case, refused to testify against her on that account.

The sisters-in-law, however, made out a strong case and succeeded in having the husband bound over. After the trial the husband did everything that he could to secure bail for his wife. He was not successful, and she was sent to jail. Her bond was fixed at $200.

How the City Got It.

The city came into possession of the triangular-shaped lot many years ago. The city at that time owned the property on which the Central railroad freight depot was located, and a trade was made between the city and the railroad company by which the city transferred the freight depot property for the triangular lot. The last piece of property has always been a matter of contention between the city and state.

The state claims that it owns the property, and the city claims that it owns it. The records are not clear on the matter. It is understood that the state asserts that it could at any time close up Wall street, and the argument has been made in the past when the transfer deal was under consideration.

MR. HIRSCH SIGNS A BIG CHECK.

The City Paid the Last of a Series of Four Notes Yesterday.

Acting Mayor Joseph Hirsch signed a check for $50,000 yesterday in payment of the last of a series of four notes given the Lowry Banking Company last summer. The city borrowed $200,000 from the bank to meet current expenses and gave four notes of $50,000 each as security.

The notes were paid, the last about the 1st of this month. The fourth note was taken up yesterday, leaving the city out of debt. The balance on hand now is about $200,000, which is in the hands of Treasurer Orme, of the Lowry Bank. The city's revenue by the collection of taxes and fees will operate the government the balance of the year without the necessity of borrowing money.

WAS MERELY ON A DRUNK.

Reports That E. A. Smith Was Poisoned Were Groundless.

E. A. Smith, a well-known lawyer of Eastman, was taken to the Grady hospital yesterday in the ambulance, suffering from the effects of an overdose of booze. He was taken to the hospital to be sobered up. Last night he had recovered from the effects of his spree.

The report that Smith had been poisoned and was at the point of death is incorrect. "We tried to keep that statement from becoming public," said the hospital physician last night, "but without success. There were not the slightest symptoms of poisoning, and the true condition of the patient was greatly exaggerated."

NO ACTION BY GRAND JURY YET.

Clayton Shortage Case Will Probably Be Disposed of This Week.

The grand jury has not yet acted on the Clayton shortage case, which it had under consideration last week. The matter will probably be taken up some time this week and finally disposed of so far as the jury is concerned.

It is said that Mr. Clayton will arrange to settle with the city some time this week. His friends say that he will pay the $149,000 due the city in accordance with the agreement made in June last and then submit his resignation as sexton. He is under suspension and the cemetery is being managed by the cemetery committee of the council.

HE LIKES ATLANTA

Rev. Dr. Rice Thinks the City Has a Great Future.

HAS NOT DECIDED ABOUT CALL

Will Leave Thursday and Will Send His Decision Next Week—Congregation Wants Him.

Rev. Theron H. Rice, who has been called to fill the pulpit of the Central Presbyterian church, has not yet decided whether or not he will accept the call. Since his stay in this city he has met a large number of the congregation of the church. He has looked carefully over the field, and thinks that Atlanta is one of the best cities he has ever seen. The members of the Central Presbyterian church have paid Dr. Rice every attention while he has been in the city. He has been well entertained. A member of the congregation has taken a personal interest in the matter. Dr. Rice has met with the approval of all who have heard him preach, and the congregation of the church are more anxious now than ever to have him accept their call.

Dr. Rice is well pleased with Atlanta and her people, and is in the praise of both. He has not decided the matter of accepting or declining the call, and, in fact, has not given it any serious thought. "I appreciate the honor the congregation of the Central Presbyterian church have done me in calling me to their pulpit," said Dr. Rice yesterday, when asked about the matter. "The people are the most pleasant I have ever met. They have treated me royally."

"I am well pleased with the field presented here, and am well pleased with the people with whom I would have to deal. I have not yet seriously thought about accepting the call. I heard about it before I was notified, but have not yet had time to seriously consider it. It will not make my decision while in Atlanta, because I feel that I should hear what my people have to say about the matter."

Well Pleased with Atlanta. "I have visited Atlanta before," continued Dr. Rice, "and at a time when there were more people here than there are now. It was during the exposition. I had heard no little about the city, and was anxious to see it."

"When I was here before I didn't have a chance to see the city as I see it now. And now that I have seen so much more of it, I am better pleased with it than ever before. From what I can see, the city is a city of young men and has a better grasp of the future than any other city in this country."

"Atlanta is undoubtedly one of the best advertised cities in the world, and everything that is said about the city is to its credit. I don't know when I have seen a city that I like better than I do Atlanta, but will not decide about the call until I return home. I feel that it will only be justice to my people to let them have some say in the matter."

Dr. Rice is a young minister, and all who have met him and heard him preach will urge him to accept the call before he leaves, and every influence possible will be brought to bear upon him. He leaves the city Thursday at midnight, and will let the congregation of the Central Presbyterian church know of his decision early in the week.

It is believed by many that Dr. Rice will accept the call he has received from the Atlanta church. He has not given any intimation of what his decision will be, but on every reason to believe that he will accept the call.

WHEELMEN AT A 'CUE.

Local Riders Enjoy a Feast at the Barbours Club.

Yesterday was an ideal day for a barbecue, and the Atlanta 'cue club gave a fine one at its grounds, eight miles from the city.

All of the members of the club were out, and about fifty members of the Good Roads Club rode out on their wheels. Along the railroad tracks to East Point is a splendid ride, and the exercise in the bracing autumn air was well calculated to sharpen the hunger of the wheelmen. All kinds of meats were cooked over the pits, and the afternoon was one long to be remembered.

Mrs. John F. Tennant, at 37 East Fair street, died yesterday afternoon after a long spell of illness, about five months. She was taken to Bessemer, Ala., for burial this afternoon.

DESPERATE FIGHT IN A DIVE.

The Green-Eyed Monster Caused a Lively Fight Monday Night.

Nita Herd and Jerry Golins are two dusky habitués of Decatur street dives. They had been swilling for some time, but last Monday night their romance came to a sudden termination by the intervention of another charmer, more fascinating in Jerry's eyes than Nita.

The scene is laid in Henry Beale's dancing hall in lower Decatur street. During the course of the evening's revelry Nita noticed that her fiancé was dancing a little too often with her rival, and she determined to put a stop to it. Therefore, walking up to her lover, she ordered him to stop. Jerry said he wouldn't do it, and the two mixed in a desperate struggle.

The spectators looked on and applauded. The scene was one of the wildest commotion, in which bad booze, razors, knives and clubs figured conspicuously. Officer Wootley happened to hear the noise and entered the dive, and finally succeeded in inducing the woman to punish her hapless lover no further. At the trial yesterday afternoon Nita was sent to the stockade for ten days and Jerry released. His place plainly showed the effects of his whipping. Nita was unharmed.

MILLIONS OF ANIMALS.

You Cannot See Them, but You May Be Devoured by Them if You Are Not on Your Guard.

Malaria—bad air. What is "bad air"? It is air loaded with millions of minute animals too small to be seen by the naked eye, and every one of them poisonous. Look at a sunbeam where it comes streaming through your window and notice millions of atoms of dust that it contains. How many thousands of millions of smaller animals there must be in every breath drawn into the lungs, and not one of which can be seen! But they must live, and they do live upon that portion of the human body which they can get at. This is malaria. Is it any wonder that nearly every man and woman is troubled with it? Kill the germs. How? Nothing so quickly and certainly as with Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Nothing so certainly injures as impure whiskey, and nothing so certainly kills as Duffy's pure malt. Professor Henry A. Mott, of New York, declares it. Mr. William T. Cutter, state chemist of Connecticut, unhesitatingly asserts it, and prominent scientists, doctors and professors who have investigated it agree and are unqualified in their commendation.

NEW TRIAL WANTED

Bill of Exceptions in Rowe's Case Filed in the Supreme Court.

HIS ATTORNEYS ARE ACTIVE

Pending Argument in the Case—The Defendant is Confined at Hard Labor in the Penitentiary.

A bill of exceptions has been filed in the supreme court in the case of J. J. Rowe, who was convicted at the last term of the criminal superior court, and who is now serving a ten-years' sentence in the penitentiary for perjury.

The bill was filed yesterday by Attorney James W. Austin, representing the accused, and the case will soon be argued before the supreme court.

Rowe, it will be remembered, was brought into public notice by signing a sensational affidavit, charging Colonel C. C. Myers with having spoken to a member of the jury that was investigating the Myers case.

As soon as the contents of the affidavit were made known Colonel Glenn swore out a warrant against Rowe, charging him with perjury. Rowe made bond, but his bond was forfeited, and he was captured and confined to trial before Judge Chandler, of the criminal court. Rowe was convicted, as every member of the jury, a number of the courthouse officials, and others sworn to, attested. Colonel Glenn had never spoken to any member of the jury, as was alleged in the affidavit. In passing sentence upon the perjury, Judge Chandler stated that he would impose the severe penalty of ten years, because he thought it was time for the practice of perjury to stop in this country. He stated at the time that Rowe had been instrumental, probably in delaying the justice, as Myers had in the meantime escaped from prison and was at large.

Recently a motion for new trial was made by Rowe's attorney, asking that a second trial be granted, as the sentence was unusually severe. The family of the convict is said to be in a pitiable condition. One child has died, and his wife is in ill health, and the family in general is in distress. The new trial was overruled by Judge Chandler, and then the bill of exceptions was prepared, and it was filed yesterday in the supreme court as stated.

He Deserves Turkey Now.

From The Covington Star. Captain John Triplett, of The Thomasville Times-Enterprise, says Thanksgiving day will be here before long, and he would like to see more turkey in Georgia. He also speaks for an abundance of sauce with his turkey. You see, Captain John is a goldbug from "away back," but he is supporting Bryan and Seawell with all his might. But we don't want him to have any crow. He must have a choice piece of turkey with an ample supply of sauce. Now, if he is intended for that. That was all disposed of after the June primary.

No, we are not in favor of repeating the crow dish. Those who were defeated in the June primary and who have supported the nominee of the party as faithfully as Captain Triplett must not take crow on Thanksgiving day. They have had enough of that, and we will divide our turkey of turkey breast and trimmings with him.
